

- Arius (Continued)
 trine before synod, 195 ff.;
 excommunicated, 196, 231, 236 ; finds champion in Eusebius of Nicomedia, 200 ff.;
 synod of Bithynian bishops sympathises with, 202 ff.; Thalia, 204 ff., 222, 231 ;
 Constantine intervenes between Alexander and, 207 ff.; at Council of Nicaea, 214, 221, 231, 236; and Eusebian party, 229 ff.; recalled from exile, 287, 288 ;
 Constantine's attack on, 288; pronounced a true Catholic by Council of Tyre, 295; returns to Alexandria, 297; questioned as to his faith, by Constantine, 297; seeks admission to Church at Constantinople, 298, 299; death, 299, 300
- Aries, Council of, 173-176; canons of, 177, 178, 351
- Armenia, recovered for Rome, 6; Saint Gregory in, 27
- Arsenius, legend of withered hand, 293
- Athanasians and baptism of Constantine, 315
- Athanasius, Saint, on help given to persecuted Christians, 28; First Discourse against the Arians, quoted, 204, 205; influence on Alexander, 214, 215; leader of Trinitarians, 221; on Council of Nicaea, 222-224; i*¹ Arian controversy, 227; condemnation of, 231, 295; banished, 239, 296; elected bishop, 286; plot against, 290; refuses to restore Arius to communion, 291; Constantine threatens, 291, 292; campaign of calumny against, 292; refuses to attend trial at Csesarea 293; trial at Council of Tyre, 293-295; appeals to Constantine, 294, 295.
- Augustseum, the, 268, 269
- Augustine, Saint, Bishop of Hippo, on Botrus and Celestius, 164; on Donatists 181, 182; on the Circumcelliones, 186; and the Donatist schism, 187; or Constantine, 329; on Christian duty, 351; and ancient literature, 353
- Aurelian, Emperor, recovers Britain and Gaul, 3; murdered, 4; persecution of Christians, 13; influence on Galerius, 17; subdues Goths and Sarmatae, 123
- Ausonius, 354
- B
- Bassianus, 120
- Botrus, deacon, 164
- Bright, Canon, quoted, on Arianism, 194, 199; on philosophy and the Church, 227
- Britain, Carausius ruler of, 6; Constantius ruler of, 8; Constantine ruler of, 51, 56, 76, 82; Constantius recovers, 52, 53; Crispus ruler of, 124
- Burnt Pillar, the, 270
- Bury, Professor, quoted, on Constantine, 328
- Byzantium, capitulation of, 115, 128; naval battle at, 129, 259; advantages of position, 259, 261; chosen by Constantine as site for a new city, 259, 260; renowned, 261; withstands Philip of Macedon, 262;